The glory of God

Read: John 1:1-18.

1. Jesus came to show us God as He really is and mankind as we ought to be. How far does this summarise the Christian faith and what were the key events in the life of Jesus which enable this to happen?
2. 'Man's chief end is to glorify God.' How can this be practised in everyday life quite apart from our church activities?
3. In what ways does/should the Church glorify God?
4. Given that there are some similarities in some world religions with Christianity eg belief in God, prayer, care for the poor, what essential additions would we want to tell them about.
5. Some scientists who are also committed Christians often say that aspects of their work create a sense of awe, wonder and meaning ('why' rather than merely 'how'). Does this help to show how faith and science complement each other rather than oppose?
